A Series of Adult Education Offerings
Around the End-of-Life Issues

Take the Time Now

This fall Union Church is offering a series of four Adult Education offerings aimed at encouraging people to take the time to do something most of us avoid: make plans around end-of-life issues. By engaging some of these hard questions now, we can save our loved ones untold stress and gain some personal peace of mind as well.

Come to one session or all four – whatever fits your needs and your calendar. All will take place from 9:00 to 9:45 a.m. in the Bagby Chapel.

October 16

Creating Your Own Advance Directive for Medical Care

A representative from Unity Hospice will discuss the benefits of advance care planning, how to initiate the end-of-life care conversations with loved ones, essential documents to complete and how to ensure your end-of-life care plan is known and accessible.

October 23

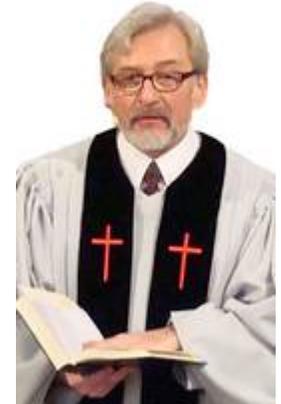

Funeral Planning

Joe Schinkten of Ryan Funeral home will guide us in a discussion of some of the questions that arise in planning a funeral and help us to start making our own plans.

November 6

Important Conversations

As a pastor, and now as a hospital chaplain, Rev. Steve Hartman has walked with many families through the death of loved ones.

Steve will talk about some of the things families say they're glad they talked about beforehand, and some of the conversations people wish they had shared.

November 20

Wills and Finances

Larry Rose, CPA, will wrap up our series with a session on wills and financial planning, how to go about creating plans, and helpful financial tools to consider.
